2012 NJVMA MEMBER ROUNDTABLE MEETINGS

Veterinary Issues Discussion and Dinner

The NJVMA Executive Board is embarking on a study of the critical issues facing our profession. You are cordially invited to join Executive Director Rick Alampi and members of the NJVMA Executive Board for a roundtable dinner discussion of the challenges and opportunities facing veterinary medicine.

We are interested in hearing your thoughts on how the NJVMA should address key issues. The topics we are most interested in exploring at this time are how veterinarians are adjusting to the economic downturn, and the difficulty of maintaining profitability of practice in these changing times. We urge you join us and share your thoughts on what we need to do in these areas. If you have an associate who is interested in attending, please bring him or her along.

Please let us know if you would like to attend one of these FREE (dinner included) roundtable discussions. All meetings will begin promptly at 7:00pm.

Mark the box next to your selection and return this form by email to info@njvma.org or fax to (908) 450-1286.
